Introductory

In presenting this, the tenth issue of McCoy's Alton City Directory under the new management, the publisher desires to take this opportunity of thanking the business men for their patronage and hearty support; without their assistance this work could not have been published, and to them belongs the credit of this publication. We trust to their judgment as to its correctness and feel assured they will commend it.

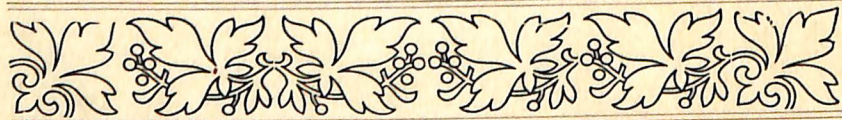

The City Directory is more than a list of residents with their occupation and addresses; it is a complete and accurate guide to the city, its people, their government, institutions, organizations and its societies. It is a complete record of all persons and places of the day and becomes a permanent history of the city and the people.

The statistics which it annually presents are of vital importance to the community. The Directory affords the only means of communication between citizens and visitors who come here during the year. There is probably no other publication in which all the people are so vitally interested, and it is a matter of more than ordinary importance to every individual that he be properly represented in this standard work of reference.

Committing this volume to the people of Alton, with the desire for a thorough and critical examination of its pages, and trusting, when the requirements of a growing and progressive city shall have outgrown the usefulness of this Directory and a new work becomes necessary, that the public spirited business men of Alton will as cheerfully recognize the need and contribute as materially to its success as they have in the present instance.

The population at the present time, according to the canvass just made, is 26,500.
